Re: Notice of Potential Liability and Request for Information Pursuant to 42 U.S.C. §§ 9607(a) 9604(e) of the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act, San German Ground Water Contamination Site, San German, Puerto Rico

Dear Mr. Schultz:

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency ("EPA") is charged with responding to the release or threat of release of hazardous substances, pollutants, and contaminants into the environment and with enforcement responsibilities under the federal "Superfund" law, the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act, as amended ("CERCLA"), 42 U.S.C. §§ 9601-9675.

EPA has documented the release and threat of release of hazardous substances into the environment at the San German Ground Water Contamination Superfund Site, San German, Puerto Rico (the "Site"). The Site includes a contaminated ground water plume that has contributed to contamination of the San German Urbano public water supply system serving an estimated population of 2,280 people in San German, Puerto Rico. Quarterly sampling collected by the Puerto Rico Aqueduct and Sewer Authority from 2001-2005 revealed that three of the seven public supply wells, identified as Retiro, Lola Rodriguez de Tio I, and Lola Rodriguez de Tio II, were contaminated with chlorinated solvents. These solvents included tetrachloroethylene ("PCE"), cis-1,2 dichloroethylene ("cis-1,2-DCE") and trichloroethylene ("TCE"). These three wells were taken out of service in 2006.

On May 19, 2008, the Site was listed on the "National Priorities List," Superfund's list of releases and potential releases of hazardous substances, pollutants, and contaminants that appear to pose the greatest threat to public health, welfare, and the environment, established under Section 105(a) of CERCLA, 42 U.S.C. § 9605(a) of CERCLA. In response to these releases and the threat of future releases, EPA has spent public funds and EPA anticipates spending additional public funds at the Site.

Recently, EPA completed a remedial investigation and feasibility study ("RI/FS") at the Site. As part of the remedial investigation, soil samples were collected at five potential source areas in an effort to locate the source of the groundwater contamination. A total of 41 soil borings were completed and 159 soil samples were collected.

Two locations at the Site were identified as containing sources of contamination of the same contaminants present in the groundwater including, PCE, TCE, and DCE. These two properties are currently occupied by Wallace Silversmiths of P.R., Inc. ("Wallace"), and CCL Insertco de PR ("CCL") and are both located within the Retiro Industrial Park, which is owned by the Puerto Rico Industrial Development Company ("PRIDCO").

As part of its public participation responsibilities under Section 117(a) of CERCLA, EPA issued for public comment a Proposed Plan that describes the remedial alternatives developed for a portion of the Site and identifies the preferred remedy with the rationale for that preference. The public comment period for the proposed remedy closed on September 11, 2015. The administrative record file, which contains copies of the Proposed Plan and supporting documentation, is available to review at U.S. EPA Records Center, Region 2, 290 Broadway, 18th Floor, New York, New York 10007-1866 and by calling (212) 637-4308. A copy of the Proposed Plan may also be obtained at the following link:
<http://www.epa.gov/region02/superfund/npl/sangerman/>

Digital Equipment Corporation ("Digital"), a former subsidiary of Compaq Computer Company ("Compaq"), leased two lots located within the Retiro Industrial Park in San German, Puerto Rico. The first lot was leased from 1971-1992 (the CCL lot). Digital leased a second lot from 1982-1987 at a building within the Retiro Industrial Park last occupied by Baytex International Corp. Digital was acquired in June 1998 by Compaq, which subsequently merged with Hewlett-Packard in May 2002. This letter seeks your cooperation in providing information and documents relating to Digital's operations at the San German Site.

NOTICE OF POTENTIAL LIABILITY

Under CERCLA, responsible parties may be held liable for all monies expended by the federal government in taking response actions in connection with a site where hazardous substances have been released -- including the costs of EPA's investigative, planning, removal, remedial, and enforcement actions. Responsible parties also may be ordered by EPA to take response actions themselves. Responsible parties under CERCLA include, among others, the owners and operators of a facility from which there has been a release or threatened release of a hazardous substance.

By this letter, we notify you that, as a former operator at the Site from which we have reason to believe there was a release or threatened release of a hazardous substance, you are a potentially responsible party for the Site pursuant to Section 107(a) of CERCLA, 42 U.S.C. § 9607(a).

EPA requires that you provide a complete and truthful response to this Request for Information, issued pursuant to Section 104(e) of the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act, as amended ("CERCLA"), 42 U.S.C. § 9604(e). A complete and separate response should be given by the Hewlett-Packard Company ("Hewlett-Packard") for each question and/or information request contained in Attachment B of this letter. If information or documents responsive to a question are not in Hewlett-Packard's possession, custody, or control, please identify the person(s) from whom such information may be obtained.
2. Number Each Answer. Identify each answer with the number of the question and/or information request and the subpart to which it responds. For each document produced in response to this Request for Information, indicate on the document, or in some other reasonable manner, the question to which it applies.
3. Provide the Best Information Available. Provide responses to the best of your ability, even if the information sought was never put down in writing or if the written documents are no longer available. You should seek out responsive information from current and former employees and/or agents. Submission of cursory responses when other responsive information is available to Hewlett-Packard may be considered non-compliance with this Request for Information. Whenever in this request for Information there is a request to identify a natural person or an entity other than a natural person, state among other things the person or entity's full name and present or last known address. Consult with all present and past employees and agents of Hewlett-Packard whom you have reason to believe may be familiar with the matter to which the question pertains.
4. Identify Sources of Answers. In answering each question, identify (see Definitions) each individual and any other source of information (including documents) that was relied on in producing Hewlett-Packard's answer.
5. Inability to Answer or Provide Documents. If Hewlett-Packard is unable to answer a question and/or information request in a detailed and complete manner or if it is unable to provide any of the information or documents requested, indicate the reason for its inability to do so. If Hewlett-Packard cannot provide a precise answer to a question, please approximate, but in any such instance, state the reason for your inability to be specific. If Hewlett-Packard has reason to believe that an individual or entity other than one employed by or known to your Company may be able to provide additional details or documentation in response to any question, state that person or entity's name, last known address, phone number, and the reasons for your belief.

6. Documents. If a document is requested but not available, state the reason for its unavailability. To the best of your ability, identify the document by author, date, subject matter, and number of pages and identify all recipients of the document with their addresses. If anything is omitted from a document produced in your response to this Request for Information, state the reason for, and the subject matter of, the omission.

7. Continuing Obligation to Provide and to Correct Information. If additional information or documents responsive to this Request become known or available to Hewlett-Packard after it responds to this Request, EPA hereby requests pursuant to Section 104(e) of CERCLA that you supplement your response to EPA.

8. Confidential Information. The information requested herein must be provided even though Hewlett-Packard may contend that it includes confidential information or trade secrets. Hewlett-Packard may assert a confidentiality claim that covers part or all of the information requested, pursuant to Sections 104(e) (7) (E) and (F) of CERCLA, 42 U.S.C. §§ 9604(e) (7) (E) and (F), and 40 C.F.R. §2.203(b). If Hewlett-Packard makes a claim of confidentiality for any of the information it submits to EPA, it must prove that claim. For each document or response it claims is confidential, you must separately address the following points:

- a. the portions of the information alleged to be entitled to confidential treatment;
- b. the period of time for which confidential treatment is desired (e.g., until a certain date, until the occurrence of a specific event, or permanently);
- c. measures taken by Hewlett-Packard to guard against an unintended disclosure of the information to others;
- d. the extent to which the information has been disclosed to others, and the precautions taken in connection therewith;
- e. pertinent confidentiality determinations, if any, by EPA or other federal agencies, and a copy of any such determination if available or a reference to them; and
- f. if you assert that disclosure of the information would likely result in substantial harmful effects on your business' competitive position, describe what those harmful effects would be, why they should be viewed as substantial, and provide an explanation of the causal relationship between disclosure and such harmful effects.

To make a confidentiality claim, please stamp or type "Confidential" on all confidential responses and any related confidential documents. Confidential portions of otherwise non-confidential documents should be clearly identified. You should indicate a date, if any, after which the information need no longer be treated as confidential. Please submit in separate envelopes both a clean and a redacted version of any documents or response for which you make a claim of confidentiality.

All confidentiality claims are subject to EPA verification. It is important that Hewlett-Packard satisfactorily show that it has taken reasonable measures to protect the confidentiality of the information, that it intends to continue to do so, and that it is not and has not been obtainable by legitimate means without Hewlett-Packard's consent.

Information covered by such claim will be disclosed by EPA only to the extent permitted by CERCLA Section 104(e) and 40 C.F.R. Part 2, Subpart B. If no such claim accompanies the information when it is received by EPA, then it may be made available to the public by EPA without further notice to Hewlett-Packard.

9. Disclosure to EPA Contractor. Information which Hewlett-Packard submits in response to this Request for Information may be disclosed by EPA to authorized representatives of the United States, pursuant to 40 C.F.R. Part 2.310(h), such as for the purpose of organizing and/or analyzing the information contained in the responses to this Request for Information, even if you assert that all or part of your submission is confidential business information. Any knowing or willful disclosure of such information by such a contractor may subject that contractor to penalties under Section 104(e)(7)(B), 42 U.S.C. § 9604(e)(7)(B). If Hewlett-Packard is submitting information which it asserts is entitled to treatment as confidential business information, you may comment on this potential disclosure within fourteen (14) days of receiving this Request for Information.

10. Personal Privacy Information. Personnel and medical files, and similar files that if disclosure to the general public may constitute an invasion of privacy, should be segregated among Hewlett Packard's responses, included on separate sheet(s), and marked as "Personal Privacy Information."

11. Objections to Questions. If Hewlett-Packard has objections to some or all the questions within this Request for Information, it is still required to respond to each question.

12. If additional information or documents responsive to this Request for Information become known or available to you after you respond to this Request, EPA hereby requests pursuant to CERCLA Section 104(e) that you supplement your response to EPA.
